IN MILADY'S BOUDOIR

BY GWEN REARS.

A JAPANESE BEAUTY TREATMENT.

We could learn much from our little sloe eyed sisters of Chrysanthemum land if we really would heed her teachings.

The peachblow complexion of the Japanese woman is greatly aided by the application of hot cleansing cloths, which she uses after having been in the dust of outdoors.

You may go through the same steaming process in your American bathroom. Run a quantity of hot water into the stationary basin, take a large soft cloth or a small soft towel, make pad of it by folding, dip it in the hot water (not scalding hot) and then, after pressing the water out of it slightly hold it to the face for about two minutes.

What the French Maid Told Marjorie

BY JANE LOWELL.

MARIE ON PRESERVING.

"I want to put up some more preserves Marie," began Marjorie, "but I do not know just what is best to put up."

"I will help all I can," responded Marie. "I am superintending the putting up of some India pickles for madame right now."

"Oh, how do you make them? India pickles sounds awfully good," broke in Marjorie. "Tell me how, won't you?"

"Well the way I put them up, continued Marie, "is to get one gallon of green tomatoes sliced on a slaw cutter, two dozen small onions cut fine, two teaspoonsful each of pepper, allspice, cloves, cinnamon, yellow mustard, one pint of mustard seed, three pints of vinegar, and one pint of sugar. Let the tomatoes and onions, with a large cup of salt, stand 24 hours; then, squeeze dry, pack with alternate layers of spice, pour over all hot vinegar and sugar. This will keep in the jar."

Breakfast.
Rice Griddle—Mix one cup of cold cooked rice with one cup milk, one egg, half a cup of flour, and two teaspoons of baking powder. Beat well and cook in small cakes on griddle.

Luncheon.
Deviled Tomatoes—Use one pint of tomatoes, one hard boiled egg, the yolk only, two tablespoons of melted butter, one and a half tablespoons of vinegar, one raw egg whipped light, one teaspoon of powdered sugar, salt, mustard, pepper. Pound the boiled egg yolk, rub in butter and seasoning, beat light, add vinegar, heat almost to a boil, stir in the beaten eggs until the mixture thickens, set in hot water while you cut the tomatoes in thick slices, broil over a clear fire, lay on a hot dish, and pour hot sauce over them.

Dinner.
Hindu Potatoes—Cut two large potatoes in cubes about an inch square, place in a sauce pan with one tablespoon of melted butter, season with salt, cayenne pepper, and one teaspoon of curry powder. Stir thoroughly and then add one pint of hot water. Let cook until the potatoes are done.

Cantaloupe Salad—Pare and cut in thin slices and serve on lettuce leaves with the following dressing. Boil together five minutes one cup of water and a half cup of sugar. Just before taking them from the fire, squeeze in the juice of a whole lemon. Chill and pour over the salad.

Lulu Paste—Cream half a cup of common cheese with a quart of a cup of Roquefort cheese and a half teaspoon of finely minced onion. Add a teaspoon of Worcestershire and a little paprika. Serve with toasted crackers.

Repeat the process three times and then proceed to douse the face vigorously with cold water for about five minutes, so that the pores will not become enlarged from the steaming. This would be preferably before retiring.

Never fail to put cold cream upon the face after the cold water douch. If done before retiring the cream need not be washed off, but if the steaming and cold water douch are used before going out, the cream may be wiped off gently from the surface with a soft handkerchief and powder applied.

If your complexion is "off color" this steaming and cold water bath will brighten it up beautifully. Be sure and do not forget the cream if the weather is cold.
